EBB TIDE.

Long reaches of wet grasses sway
Where ran the sea but yesterday,
And white-winged boats at sunset drew
To anchor on the crimsoning blue.
The boats lie on the grassy plain;
Nor tug nor fret at anchor chain;
Their errand done, their impulse spent,
Held to an alien element.
With sails unset they idly lie
Through morning beckons brave and night;
Like wounded birds, their flight denied,
They lie, and long and wait the tide.

About their keels, within the net
O tough grass fibres green and wet,
A myriad thirsty creatures, pent
In sorrowful imprisonment,
Await the best, distinct and sweet,
Of the white waves, returning feet.
My soul their vigil joins, and shares
A nobler discontent than theirs;
Athirst like them, I patiently
Sit listening beside the sea:
And still the waters outward glide,
When is the turning of the tide?

Come, pulse of God; come, heavenly thrill;
We wait Thy coming—and we will;
The world is vast, and very far
Its utmost verge and boundaries are;
But Thou hast kept Thy word to-day
In India and in dim Cathay,
And the same mighty care shall reach
Each humblest rock-pool of this beach.

Girls' Manners.

If our girls greet their brothers and sisters, and perhaps even their parents, boisterously; if instead of "Good morning," they cry "Hallo, papa! Hallo, mamma!" and call to playmates in the street in the same rough manner, who will be surprised if this style follows them as they grow up and appear as young ladies? Referring to this unladylike manner and mode of address, a gentleman writes that, passing two pretty, well-dressed, stylish-looking young ladies in the public streets, he was surprised to hear one meet the other with "Hallo Sid!" and the other respond. "Hallo, Tude!" to her friend's greetings and he remarks: "It was just what two lounging young men might have said, or stable boys, for that matter. It might not have been so much out of the way for the latter, but I confess it sounded very odd and offensive as what I supposed to be two well-bred young ladies; as much so as if I had heard two beautiful gray and rose-colored birds begin to swear. It was so unnatural, so out of place. It may be 'the style' for young girls or ladies to greet each other with an 'Hallo!' but I can't like it or get used to it. Those things may seem but a trifle, but they make all the difference between nice things and very common things. We usually prefer sweet, gentle, refined girls to those who are coarse and hoidenish. Girls may fall into this free-and-easy, unladylike habit through their brother's example, but sisters were given to refine and soften the coarser nature of their brothers. If they do not do this they shall no longer find in our sisters refined and refining companions, but the course ways and rough speech of young men in flounces. Is it not just as easy to imitate the graceful manners and refined speech of a lady as those of a rude, uncultivated boy?" The same general rules for correct and pleasant behavior are safe for boys and girls, ladies and gentlemen. A gentleman may entertain the highest respect for a lady, and may be on the most friendly and intimate terms, but, if a true gentleman, his respect will withhold him from carelessness or roughness in speech or action. And no lady who is truly refined will brook anything approaching a too familiar tone. It is, however, but just to acknowledge that a lady's manner will always fix the metes and bounds of the liberty which may be offered. When boys and girls, young men and maidens, are allowed to fall into the absurdities of low, foolish, meaningless talk it seems to dwarf them intellectually; they can find nothing of interest or importance to say, and therefore make up for sense by filling every sentence with needless exclamations exaggerations, or misused adjectives.—Mrs. Beecher in Christian Union.

An Irish servant-girl who was sent by her master to the Post-office in Lewiston, Me., to deposit some letters and get his mail, took out his letters from the look-box, and then carefully deposited the letters she had been told to mail. The next day, upon repeating her errand, she was very indignant at the Postmaster upon finding that the letters had not been sent to their destination.

Among the arrivals in Berlin is a Swedish tourist, who has made his way to the Prussian capital in a very curious conveyance. This is no other than a carriage drawn by three dogs, which are expected to drag the man and his luggage, consisting of provisions and clothing and also fire-arms, all over the continent of Europe. The man has already traveled in his peculiar vehicle over a greater part of Sweden, Norway, and Denmark, and is only now at the be-

The American and his Holiday.

It is not more than a dozen years since the hardworked New Yorker or Philadelphian with small income, made up his mind that the Summer holiday, which was an indulgence to his well-to-do neighbor, was a necessity for himself—as much of a necessity in the work of the year as the hours for sleep are the work of the day. So far, so good. Now, that he is convinced of that, he takes his holiday; but he is not yet used to it. He carries the luxury uneasily; it discomforts him; he does not know how to use it. Having but the one chance to be idle in the year, he is captious about the idleness, and scared lest he may not enjoy every moment of it.

He knows what he wants very well. He and his wife and children are talking about that at this very moment in a hundred thousand places. He will tell you that he is not hard to please. There are certain essentials, to be sure, which he must have when he leaves home for enjoyment; sublime scenery, pure air, no mosquitoes, plenty of game, milk, fruit and eggs, congenial society, spring mattresses, well-cooked meals, and little to pay at the end of the week—give him this and he is satisfied. Where he shall go to find them, and, after he has gone, how he was cheated while he was there, afford him matter for grumbling from May until December.

Now his French or German cousin over the sea has a hundred holidays in the year. He knows how to bring the flavor out of every drop in the orange. He drifts into idleness easily, without thought. When his fete comes, he goes, for a few francs with his sweetheart or wife, a mile or two out of town. They joke and laugh. The sun shines, the wind blows—it is all good. It rains, it is dusty—but they joke and laugh all the same. They criticise nothing. How good it all is!

But as for our Americans, a corn-husk bed, or a mosquito in the woods, will overturn a whole Summer's fabric of happiness. In his anxiety lest he should not seize the best chance of enjoyment, he is apt to follow the largest crowd. He goes to Niagara, to Cape May, and Adirondacks, or to some one of the countless pasteboard mansions in the suburbs of the cities. He tells you that his object is rest and freedom, but the chances are that he leaves both behind in his house in town. There he could wear his old slippers; he chose his own companions; he held such habits and opinions as suited him; he was the MacDonald, and where he sat was the head of the table. But in every one of these Summer homes society tramples him down. It is often a little clique of which he never heard before, "without father, mother, descent." He may laugh at it as vulgar and ignorant, but it is master of the position; he is not. In the hottest months of the year, when even the beasts in the fields lie down and rest, it forces upon him a hurly-burly of fashion gossip, dress, outlay, and weariness, which at home he can manage to shut outside of his own door. He goes back, as a rule, to his shop or office, his gas pipes and family table, unrefreshed, and glad that the holiday is over. But, after all, he goes with the crowd the next year. The average American is afraid not to move with the crowd.

The history of all Summering-places is alike. An adventurous artist usually enters into a new field, and whispers his discovery to his friends. Scenery is well-nigh as popular a hobby just now as household decoration. After him come pell-mell the would be aesthetics, and later the more fashionables, as the flock follows the tinkle of the bell-wether, and up go the mammoth hotels as fast as mushrooms spring on a May morning on betramped sheep-walks.—Mrs. R. H. Davis in Harper.

When a woman exerts herself to have home look cheerful on any one night in the year, when her husband comes home; has his slippers ready, the children sent to bed and a nice supper on the table, it is a sad pang to her loving heart when she asks him for a new bonnet to have him insinuate that all the parade was only a preface to the request, and to add insult to injury by telling her how long his mother wore a bonnet. Women are gentle creatures, long suffering and slow to wrath; but when the wrath does come—, well, Solomon knew how it was when he wrote so feelingly on the woman question.

Soldene is preparing her wardrobe to come back to this country. It is worth the trouble of getting up a complimentary benefit to hear the giddy creature say to the audience in a front-of-the-curtain speech: "Dears, if I had a mouth big enough, my heart would be glad to kiss you all at once."

A happy husband relates that he has been married twenty years, and that during the whole time his wife and he had only once had an idea in common, and that was when their house caught fire, and both did their best to see who could get out of the door first.

A prominent writer on rhetoric says: "A new word learned and correctly used is an acquirement to be proud of." The usufruct of this biaplasm lies in the differentiation thereof.

Dignity is the ice that preserves our character from decomposition.

NATIONAL

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT.

JAMES A. GARFIELD,

Of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR,

Of New York.

Election, Tuesday, November 2, 1880.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 6th, 1880.

Of the political parties, the Republican has least cause of uneasiness, for the skies are bright with promise of success. It is not all certain that New York will be the debatable ground, for with California, Indiana and Connecticut the election would be assured, and there now seems no doubt but what the Republicans will receive the Electoral votes of the above States. Garfield represents a party and party principles that has a history rich with Statesmanship, while Hancock represents no principles, no party—or if the representative of anything, he is the exponent of West Point Aristocracy and exclusiveness, which are unrepublican, not in its party sense, but in its comprehensiveness. West Point has educated a set of men, who, sent there by the public generosity, have shown themselves exclusive unamerican, and the most enthusiastic blatant howlers here are the West Pointers, who see in the nomination of Hancock not a recognition of military service, but a recognition of their class. It is amusing to see how the ex-rebel and Southern sympathizer during the war fraternize and hug each other in ecstatic joy over a "new restored Union." No one should get angry at the drivelling of an idiot, and this diurnal performances of such men are the merest idiocy, which may amuse but deceives no one. No, it is simply policy. The Democracy have found it expedient to smother for the time the old "rebel yell" and to fall into line with the procession that has kept step to the music of the Union. It is for no new born love of the Union, that the South is so unanimous over the nomination of Hancock. Not because they have seen the error of their ways, and as our clerical brethren put it, "have experienced a change of heart," not at all, they do not support Hancock because of his records of loyalty, not because he was instrumental in whipping them into obedience to law, but because he is a Democrat and is the standard bearer of the Democracy—the party to whom they look for restitution. The Democratic idea, the Democratic principle in this fight, is to get possession of the reins of the Government, when they hope to accomplish by insidious means, that which they failed to accomplish by rebellion. They say, why should we fight over the gone and dead issues of the war? That the Republic should not perish from the face of the earth is not a dead issue, and is one which will enter pretty largely into this canvas when we see under the blue, the confederate grey. In 1861, the South were extremely anxious to get out of the Union and expended blood and fortune to accomplish it. In 1880, they are extremely anxious to get into the Union, that the principles of self government may triumph. No one is deceived by this new born exhibition of fraternal love—and the Republican and the Union Soldier is going to vote as he shot, for the good of the people. Is it rational or human to expect that the Confederates, who nominated Hancock, and he who so sorely punished them, can love him, or the cause he so valiantly fought to vindicate? I miss my judgment fearfully if the patriotic people of the country can be hoodwinked into trusting the destiny of the Union to the Democracy, as even if the purpose of the solid South are temperately masked behind a General of the regular Army.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

"It is becoming tolerably evident to those who give the subject a little thought that Nevada cannot maintain its expensive State Government many years, unless immense bonanzas are discovered in the Comstock or some other mining section of the State, without increasing the State rate of taxation to at least three times what it is at present. The population of the State is not increasing proportionately with that of other new States, and the assessable property will probably be less this year than it was last year. There will also be a material reduction in the revenue from the net proceeds of the mines, as the bullion product of the Comstock is steadily falling off. It is useless to attempt to disguise the too apparent fact that the outlook of the State is gloomy, and that something must be done, and that soon, to relieve the taxpayers from the burden of a State Government. As there is no precedent for dismemberating a State Government and obliterating a star from the galaxy of the Union, the only hope for Nevada is the annexation of Utah, of which it was originally a part. This would give the State a population of about 200,000, and entitle it to two members of Congress. It would make a prosperous State, which could be maintained without excessive taxation; the only obstacle in the way of this arrangement is polygamy, but that could be abolished before the Union is consummated. The Gentile voters would outnumber the Mormons, and as the Constitution of Nevada prohibits polygamy, there would be no danger of having the peculiar institution countenanced by law.—Silver State.

The Virginia City, Nevada, Enterprise makes the following good point:

"The Republicans are very wicked. They are accused of buying votes. The natural inference is that if they are guilty, it must be Democrats that they purchase. There is no necessity for buying men in their own party, who vote the Republican ticket, anyway. It is too bad that the guileless Democrats allow themselves to be bought up like so many sheep, but one thing is certain, if Democrats are not willing to sell their votes Republicans could not buy them."

The personal property tax roll of San Francisco foots up the large sum of $88,521,868—an increase of $37,499,807 over the assessment of last year.

GARFIELD ACCEPTS.

General Garfield has formerly accepted the Republican nomination for President. His letter of acceptance is a manly one and shows him to be in sympathy with the laboring classes of our country—having been a laboring man himself until the people knowing his worth and ability compelled him to enter their service. We regret we have not room for his entire letter, but we will let our readers see what he says on the Chinese question, the most important to the Pacific coast. He says:

The material interests of this country, the traditions of its settlement and the sentiments of our people, have led the Government to offer the widest hospitality to emigrants who seek our shores for new and happier homes, willing to share the burdens as well as the benefits of our society, and intending that their posterity shall become an undistinguishable part of our population. The recent movement of the Chinese to our Pacific Coast partakes but little of the qualities of such an emigration, either in its purposes or its result. It is too much like an importation to be welcomed without restriction; too much like an invasion to be looked upon without solicitude. We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us under the guise of immigration. Recognizing the gravity of this subject, the present Administration, supported by Congress, has sent to China a Commission of distinguished citizens for the purpose of securing such a modification of the existing treaty as will prevent the evils likely to arise from the present situation. It is confidently believed that these diplomatic negotiations will be successful without the loss of commercial intercourse between the two powers which promises a great increase of reciprocal trade and the enlargement of our markets. Should these efforts fail, it will be the duty of Congress to mitigate the evils already felt and prevent their increase by such restriction, as without violence or injustice, will place upon a sure foundation the peace of our communities, and the freedom and dignity of labor.

The above should satisfy the greatest hater of the Chinese that Garfield, as President, would be the firm friend of the people of California in their warfare against Chinese immigration, but, plain and square as he is on this important question, the Democratic papers on this coast will persist in asserting that he is in favor of overrunning the country with Chinamen.

The Republican State Convention, to nominate Presidential Electors, will assemble at Sacramento on the 11th of August. Mono can have but one delegate, the apportionment having been made on the Hayes & Wheeler vote. Mono, on the Perkins vote last Fall, is entitled to five delegates.

General Arthur's letter of acceptance of the nomination for the Vice Presidency will probably be given to the public today.

Houk of Tennessee predicts that Garfield will carry that State by a large majority.

Chinatown in Folsom was destroyed by fire on Wednesday. The Chinese must go.

The railroad to Leadville has been completed.

NEW TO-DAY.

A MEETING OF THE BODIE REPUBLICAN Club will be held at Justice Peterson's Court Room on MONDAY EVENING, JULY 19th, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of Republicans, those who desire to become members as well as those who are already such, is invited.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION, ISSUED out of the Superior Court in and for the County of Mono, Hon. Marcus P. Wiggin, presiding, and to me directed and delivered, on a judgment rendered and entered in said Court, on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1880, in favor of George Gillson, O. T. Barber and Frank B. Hessell, partners, doing business under the name and style of Gillson, Barber & Co., and against Sam Chung, for the sum of Nine hundred and thirty-eight and 47-100 dollars debt, and Ninety and 25-100 dollars costs of suit, I have levied on the following described real property of defendant or so much thereof as to satisfy plaintiffs' demand and all costs to wit:

All the right, title and interest of defendant Sam Chung in and to that certain town lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Lundy, County of Mono, State of California, lying on the southeasterly side of ——street, and fronting on said —— street thirty feet, more or less; thence in a southeasterly direction of a uniform width one hundred feet, more or less, and on which is situated the Lake View House, together with all the improvements, and appurtenances thereto belonging; Also, all the right, title and interest of Sam Chung in and to a certain piece or parcel of land lying on Rough Creek, County of Mono, State of California, containing 160 acres, more or less, boundaries unknown, together with all the improvements and appurtenances thereto belonging.

Notice is hereby given that on SATURDAY, AUGUST SEVENTH, A. D. 1880 at 1 o'clock P. M. of that day, in front of the Court House, in the town of Bridgeport, County of Mono, State of California, I will sell the right, title and interest of said Sam Chung in and to the above described property, at public auction for cash in hand, in U. S. gold coin, to the highest and best bidder to satisfy said execution and all costs.

Dated the 13th day of July, 1880.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

MORE SHOOTING.—About 4 o'clock on Thursday morning a pistol fusilade startled the southern part of town. It seems that George Center was wending his way homeward, and somewhat under the "influence," when he fired at a cat in the lumber yard on Wood street. Officer O'Malley, who was on duty in that vicinity, went "for him" and demanded his pistol, which Center was unwilling to accede to, and he drew his revolver and took a shot at the officer, who returned it with interest. The fusilade culminated in Center being shot in the knee and having the forefinger of his right hand broken. O'Malley had his coat-tail pierced by a bullet. Center was picked up and carried to the jail where his wounds were dressed. Center is said to be a pretty good fellow when sober, but when in liquor rather dangerous. Such men should have sense enough to leave firearms at home. The question now agitating the public mind is: What right had the officer to demand Center's pistol? There is no law in this State against carrying concealed weapons, and as we have no town incorporation and town ordinances to prevent the discharge of firearms within the town limits, it strikes us that there is no authority vested in any one to compel a citizen to give up his arms, unless he has committed a felony. Officers should be sure that they have the law on their side before acting.

THE FRENCH CELEBRATE.—Our French fellow citizens duly observed the anniversary of the "Fall of the Bastile," on the 14th, Wednesday. The day was ushered in by the firing of a salute from the Standard gun and the hoisting of the French flag on the pole on Bodie Peak. Salutes were also fired at noon and sunset. In the evening a large number of our people of French birth and a few invited guests, partook of a banquet at the Grand Central Hotel. The dining hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion. After satisfying the inner man toasts and speeches were in order and freely indulged in till midnight, when an adjournment was ordered.

ANOTHER GROWL.—St. Louis and Chicago, San Francisco and Sacramento, have been growling because the census enumerators have not footed up a population equal to what has been claimed for them by their papers. And now comes Bodie a growling, the census taker giving us a population of only 5,417, when we have been claiming from 7,000 to 10,000 people in our altitudinous burg. Perhaps our enumerators have omitted a few, but is not 5,416 a goodly population for a place that may be said to be really only about two years old? We think it is.

A "JOLLY" SOCIAL.—The Jolly Brothers gave one of their pleasant socials at Miners' Union Hall last evening. As it was strictly an invitation party there were enough present to make it a very enjoyable affair. The young men comprising the "Jolly Brothers" are indeed a jolly set and know how to enjoy themselves and have their friends do likewise. We thank the Committee for complimentary tickets. Were we as near "May" as we are near "December" we should be of the "Jolly Brothers"—if we could.

DECEASED.—Geo. B. Hastings, who was injured by an explosion of powder at a military encampment at Monterey on the 3d of July, died from the injuries and was buried in San Francisco on Tuesday. The deceased was a member of Company C. of the National Guard, and was highly respected. He was buried with military honors. Mr. Hastings was a native of Sacramento and a brother of Howard F. Hastings, Cashier of the Mono County Bank, of this city.

RETIRED.—John I. Ginn has retired from the Standard and will hereafter devote himself to mining correspondence, having perfected arrangements with a number of mining journals in the East to keep them correctly posted on mining affairs in this section. We wish our old friend success in his new undertaking.

FIRE.—An alarm of fire caused by the burning of a lot of old papers in the rear of Mrs. Devine's boarding house on Main street, near Green, turned out our citizens about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The firemen were prompt, but their services were not required.

SHAMEFUL.—The Bodie News headed an Eastern telegram, announcing the serious illness of Don Cameron, "The Pennsylvania Fraud will Die." Excepting to remark that the News is a Democratic paper, comment is unnecessary.

TOWN-SITE SURVEY.—U. S. Deputy Surveyor Scowden has completed the survey of the town-site of Bodie and will have the plat of the same ready to file about the 1st of August.

NOTARY PUBLIC.—Governor Perkins has commissioned George W. Rowan a Notary Public for Mono county, to reside in Mammoth City.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.—The Republican Club will hold an important meeting on Monday evening, when it is to be hoped every Republican will be present.

WILL OPEN.—The public school of this city will open on Tuesday next.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

[From the Bridgeport Union].

MAIL MATTERS.—The following petition to the Postmaster General is in circulation: The undersigned, citizens of Mono county, California, respectfully petition that the tri-weekly mail service between Bodie and Bridgeport be increased to a daily.

In asking this, we have to say: That the County of Mono is one of the most important in the State; that within the past three years the population has increased from 400 to 10,000, and the assessment roll from $375,000 to $3,000,000; that the business which centers at the County Seat, at Bridgeport, is far in excess of that of any other county in the State, outside of San Francisco; that mining and real estate deeds, and other documents annually recorded in the Recorder's office range from 3,000 to 4,000; that other business connected with the County Clerk's and Sheriff's offices is of equal magnitude; that the Court business of the county requires the services of two Superior Judges, and consequently two Departments of Court; that it is an absolute necessity that the mail facilities should be increased, that all such business may be expedited, and the wishes and interests of our people be consulted. Trusting that you will bestow upon this your earliest and favorable consideration, we shall ever pray.

MATRIMONIAL.—On Sunday afternoon John W. Wiley, of Bridgeport, was united in marriage to Miss Ella M., daughter of mine host, D. M. Walters, of the "Willows." We had the pleasure of being one of the happy group at the bridal supper. The young couple have our sincere congratulations, and we trust that the squalls they may encounter on the sea of matrimony, may simply be those incident to married bliss.

In Aurora, on Sunday last, Deputy County Clerk Wm. H. Watson, Jr. was married to Miss Sarah D. Starr, of this town. They have our best wishes.

ABOLISH THEM.—We submit to the public that the criminal business of this county inflicts an unjustifiable expense upon the taxpayers. To remedy this serious evil, which threatens to bankrupt the treasury, we suggest the abolishment of the Superior Courts, relating to criminal business, and the Grand Jury system. The Bodie papers comprehend, and are masters of the situation. They condemn and hang all those in the county jail, charged with murder. This is praiseworthy, and an economical method of administering justice.

THE RESULT.—The virtual settlement of the vexatious County Seat question, by the erection of a new Court House, has given confidence in the future prosperity of Bridgeport. Property has enhanced in value, and, we learn, a number of buildings will be erected in the vicinity of the new Court House.

TRIAL JURY.—On Monday last the names of seventy-five taxpayers were drawn from the jury box to serve as a trial jury. The drawing took place in presence of Hon. Judge Wiggin, County Clerk Miller and Under-Sheriff Massey. The Jury is to be in attendance on Monday week next, July 26th.

THE LION'S SHARE.—The force to be employed upon the new Court House will mostly come from Bodie, and thus will the "metropolis" gobble up the bulk of the $23,900. Bodie will realize the immediate benefit, and Bridgeport the future.

LOUD AND DEEP.—The calling of a trial jury of seventy-five reminds us of the almanac: "Look for heavy thunder and lightning these days." The curses of the summoned will be loud and deep.

COURT HOUSE.—The foundation of the Court House was commenced on Wednesday last. The stone is gotten out in large blocks and is of first-rate quality.

ARRAIGNED.—The prisoners under indictment are to be arraigned in the Superior Court to-day. The Jury is to be called on the 26th inst.

MINERAL PATENTS ISSUED.—The following mineral patents have been issued from the General Land office, for California:

Amador County.—N. Gover Mining Co., N. Gover Quartz Mine, Wm. K. Johnson, et. al., Placer mine.

Calaveras.—W. L. McKenzie, placer; John C. Scribner, placer.

Del Norte.—Albert Doolittle et. al., placer George B. Temple, placer.

Nevada.—S. Allison, placer; Wyoming G. M. Co., Ural quartz mine.

Shasta. D. H. Dunn et. al., Chance quartz mine.

The President has appointed John B. Neil of Salt Lake City as Governor of Idaho Territory, vice Mason Brayman, term expired.

Dr. R. H. McDaniel, one of the oldest medical practitioners in Yuba county, died on Monday evening last at the age of 66 years.

Robert Hanna, an ex-Confederate, has filed a petition at Washington for a pension on account of a wound received in 1864, during the late war. What cheek!

The Central Pacific Railroad Company last month carried 2,840 passengers East and 3,100 West, making a total of 5,940.

New Orleans threatened with yellow fever. They should send for Ben Butler and give him a contract to clean that city.

General Hartranft entered upon the duties of Collector of the Port of Philadelphia on Tuesday.

The Leopard Company's quartz mill, near Cornucopia, Nev., was destroyed by fire on the 11th.

A cool wave struck Salt Lake Monday, and snow fell in the Wasatch mountains to a depth of four inches.

Six thousand persons welcomed Henri Rochefort back to Paris.

Tom Taylor, the English dramatist, is dead.

LATE DECISIONS.

The following are late decisions of the Secretary of the Interior and Commissions of the General Land Office:

MINES AND MINERALS.

A mining location must be substantially a parallelogram.

The middle of a vein or lode, must be ascertained by actual exploration and development and cannot be assumed to be in an unexplored position.

The location must be one vein, and but one vein can be made the basis of the location survey of a mining location.—Com. May 4th, 1800.

TOWNSITE.

Where land in the vicinity of valuable mineral deposits is returned as mineral in character on the township plat, clear and positive proof of its non mineral character can alone overcome the return of the Surveyor General.—Secretary, April 17th, 1880.

PREEMPTION.

Improvements.—A formal deed is not necessary for the conveyance of improvements on public land, but that a verbal rule followed by possession and consent is sufficient.

Good faith.—In determining good faith it is immaterial whether a person purchases valuable improvements, already on the land or whether he makes them after his settlement.—Secretary, March 19, 1880.

TIMBER CULTURE.

The planting of the following trees satisfy the requirements of the Timber culture acts, viz: Ceder, Pine, Fir, Larch, Elm, Oak, Black Locust, Alder, Beech, Plane tree, Cotton tree, Buttonwood or Sycamore Chestnut, Spruce, Ash, Birch, Service tree, (mountain Ash,) Maple, Box elder, Walnut, Cottonwood, White willow, Hickory, Tulip tree, Butternut and Basswood.—Com. May 18, 1880.

WHY A GERMAN JEW SUPPORTS GARFIELD.—In the city of Cleveland there has just been formed a Garfield Club of German Jews, many of whom have in years past voted the Democratic ticket. At the first meeting of the Club, a peddler who carried a pack for many years over the hills of Northwestern Ohio came forward to sign the roll. He said, "I have always been a Democrat. But I said many years ago, that if I ever had a chance to vote or say a good word for this Mr. Garfield I should do so. I tells you for why. I was one night tired and hungry carrying my pack along the roads of Hiram, and tried many places to stay all night. Nobody would keep the poor Jew. Finally I stopped at Mr. Garfield's house, I did not know he was a General, or anybody but a common man. I asked him if I could stay all night. I told him that I was tired and hungry. He said I could stay, of course; and he talked with me so kind, and he speaks the German so fine and he has traveled all over the Fatherland. He asked me so many questions all about my business and my stay in this country, and he seemed to be so much interested in what I said to him. I tell you I was never treated so in my life He's one gentleman and one great man. I found out the next day that he was the great General and the great orator. I tell you he is the man we all should vote for." As the poor peddler related his story, in broken English, he nearly broke down with emotion.—Corr. Chicago Tribune.

POSTOFFICE ABUSES.—The Postmaster-General has issued an order intended to break up the existing practice of certain classes of merchants, manufacturers, inventors and agents, who send through the mails printed advertising cards of various shapes and sizes with a one cent postage stamp affixed. The Postoffice Department officials complain that this practice, which is a growing one, has of late become a serious annoyance and hindrance to the prompt distribution of mail matter, particularly on the railway mail service. This order declares the postal card furnished by the Postoffice Department the only card matter that, for the purposes indicated, will be transmitted in mails, whether it be printed or written upon, at a less rate than three cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof. The order will take effect October 1, 1880.

It is shown by statistics relating to the years 1872 to 1879, that, while the total income of the population in Prussia has not diminished, the large and very large incomes have fallen off, and medium incomes have increased. The fear of a progressive accumulation of wealth in a few hands seems to be groundless, and the real core of the nation, the middle class, is extending and gaining strength. The buying power of money in the country, after having undergone an almost unbroken diminution from 1852 to about 1874, seems in the subsequent interval to have become steady, and even to have partly risen.

Two Carson women recently quarrelled, and opened fire on each other with Roman candles. A policeman tried to march in, but was chased down the street with a stream of hot shot from the candles and his coat-tails badly burned. When the ammunition gave out he returned and captured the enemy.

United States Senator Allen G. Thurman is coming to California to stump the State in the interest of Hancock and English.

Professor George Davidson of the Coast Survey has just established the hight of the summit of Mount Diablo at 3,848,63 feet above tide level.

MARRIAGES.

WILEY—WALTERS.—At the "Willows," Mono county, July 11th, by Thomas J. Obenchain, J. P., John W. Wiley, of Bridgeport, to Miss Ella M., daughter of D. M. Walters.

Our young friends will accept the congratulations of this office.

WATSON—STARR.—In Aurora, Nev., July 11th, William H. Watson, Jr. to Miss Sarah D. Starr, both of Bridgeport.

We congratulate the happy couple.

JUST OUT!

HOOD'S GREAT BOOK

OF THE WAR.

ADVANCE AND RETREAT;

Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies.

BY GENERAL J. B. HOOD,

Late Lieutenant-General Confederate States Army.

Published for the

HOOD ORPHAN MEMORIAL FUND,

BY

GEN. G. T. BEAUREGARD,

New Orleans, 1880.

THE ENTIRE PROCEEDS ARISING FROM the sale of this work are devoted to the Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, which is invested in U. S. Registered Bonds for the nurture, care, support and education of the ten infants deprived of their parents last Summer at New Orleans, (the melancholy incidents of which sad bereavement are still fresh in the public mind.

The book is an elegant octavo, containing 360 pages, with a fine photograph likeness and a fine steel engraving, made expressly for this work, four large maps of battle fields, bound in handsome gray English cloth, at $3; or in a fine sheep binding, with marble edge, $3 50; in half-bound morocco, library style, $4; or in best Levant Turkey morocco, full gilt sides and edges, $5.

On the receipt from any person remitting by mail or express, of the amount in a registered letter, or by postal order, bank draft or check a copy will be immediately sent free of postage, registered as second-class matter.

The volume is published in the best style of typography, on elegant paper, with illustrations executed as highest specimens of art.

The author, the subject, the purpose, all alike render it worthy a place in every library, on every desk, or upon the book shelf of every house in the country.

Agents wanted in every town and county in the United States, and a preference will be given to honorably discharged veterans from the army.

To the ladies, who feel a desire to express their sympathy with the "Hood Orphan Memorial Fund," the sale of this book amongst their circle of friends will afford an excellent way of contributing substantial aid to so deserving a cause.

For terms, rates to agents, etc., address with full particulars,

GEN. G. T. BEAUREGARD, Publisher,

BIG MEADOWS AND BODIE TOLL ROAD.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE rates of tolls on the BIG MEADOWS AND BODIE WAGON ROAD are as follows:

Buggy team	$ 50
Loaded wagon and two animals	1 00
Each additional pair of animals	50
Horseman	25
Pack Animals, each	25
Hogs and sheep, each	3
Loose stock, each	5
Empty teams half-price.

The Road Company is entitled to collect, by authority of the Supervisors, $1 50 on each buggy team, and, also, fifty cents on each trail wagon, but, wishing to favor the teamsters in all ways, it concluded to make the above reductions, and, at the same time, to keep its roads in the best of order for travel. If any toll-gate keeper collects more tolls than the amounts set forth above, the person so imposed upon will confer a favor by reporting the same to the undersigned.

No deadheads will be permitted to pass on the road.

All tolls will be required to be paid at the time of passing the toll gates, as no credit is given.

Any toll keeper giving credit will be discharged.

BODIE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, JULY 17, 1880.

Young Men's Manners.

A certain brutality of manners, adopted from the English, is affected by some of our young men. They answer harshly, affect not to see a lady to whom they owe civilities, and try to become boors, even if they are not. This style is seen much in men of mixed blood, perhaps the half German, half French, half English. It is a very poor style and betrays the snob. It is not a common American fault, still it exists. It should be frowned down; it is the fault of mediocre men.

But, as Houssaye says: "Young men are moderate nowadays, even in their follies. They are afraid of excess; they cut grooves for their vices to run in; they are bourgeois, who carefully avoid fatiguing, much more exposing themselves."

Houssaye does not believe, evidently, that there are Sir Philip Sydneys, "admirable Crichtons," in these days, but he is wrong. A shipwreck, a battle-field, a field day in Wall street, brings them to the front. Men are as noble as ever, there are as many heroes. The occasion finds them, and in every newspaper office, every merchant's counting-room, in all the walks of the professions are the silent heroes. What a hero is the young doctor, who works day and night succoring the wounded, helping the sick, tending the dying. What a hero the young soldier, who has first thoroughly conquered himself! What a hero is the young bank clerk, preserving his honesty while there is temptation around him! What a hero the young man doing honest work anywhere. He shames the pouncet-box hero; he is the Hotspur of the field of honor.

Women love these heroes. They are the men to marry. The other kind do very well for the leadership of the german, but the true women do not care for them. One real man entering a drawing-room with his record of work behind him will scare away the fop as ghosts retire at cock-crow.—Andrews' American Queen.

QUAKERS OF LONG AGO.—A record book of monthly meetings held by Virginia Friends in Henrico county from 1699—only eight years after the death of George Fox, the founder of the society—to 1759, now owned in Richmond, contains many interesting entries. It begins with a report of a business meeting held to raise money for putting up a house to worship in, and at which it was ordered that of the tobacco crop raised that year, 5,050 pounds should be assessed on the members and paid over to the builder. The structure was to be "30 foot 6 long and 20 foot wide," and at another meeting an assessment of 1,700 pounds of tobacco was made to pay the expenses of ceiling this meeting-house with rived boards and making and hanging the doors. No record is made of the spot where the house stood, and every trace of it has disappeared. The clerk in whose hand the first records are written was Joseph Pleasants, believed to be a son of John Pleasants, who came from England and settled under a grant from the King 1666. A portion of this grant is still in the possession of a member of the family, who now lives on it, and it has been owned by the Pleasants continuously for 214 years. The record book contains no instances of litigation, all disputes having been decided by arbitration. When differences arose they were laid before the monthly meeting, which named a committee of "discreet men," who acted as a referee court, to which the case was taken for argument and decision. In no case mentioned in the book did their verdict fail to obtain agreement from both to the dispute.

A BOY AGAIN.—Sometimes an old man becomes a boy again, though too sharp to drop into his second childhood. An illustration of this pleasant tendency was given, not many months since, by an old man, with several millions.

He was in the habit of prowling around the office of the insurance company in which he was a director. One morning, as he was thus investigating, he happened to come across the dinner-pail of the office boy. His curiosity led him to take off the cover. A slice of home-made bread, two doughnuts, and a piece of apple pie tempted the millionaire's appetite. He became a boy again, and the dinner pail seemed the one he had carried sixty years ago. Just then, the office boy came in and surprised the old man eating the pie—he had finished the bread and doughnuts.

"That's my dinner you're eating!" exclaimed the boy, indignantly.

"Yes, sonny, I suspect it may be; but it's a first rate one, for all that. I've not eaten so good a one for sixty years."

"There," he added, as he finished the pie, "take that and go out and buy yourself a dinner, but you won't get as good a one"—and he handed the boy a five dollar bill.

For days after, he kept referring to the first-class dinner he had eaten from the boy's pail.

A religious body having resolved to build a new church, the pastor went about begging very zealously, accepting not only the widow's bit the child's mite. In the Sunday school a few days afterward, while instructing the children, he compared himself to a shepherd, and then inquired what the latter did with his flock. One bright-eyed little fellow promptly replied, "He shears them."

The Boston Herald tells the story of an enthusiastic veteran who, upon getting his pension papers entitling him to $1,600 arrears, remarked as he left the City Hall, "By George, if I could meet the dastardly rebel that shot me, I would treat him."

Among the pets which are newly coming into fashion are playful young tigers. At any rate, one which is described as a "beautifully marked and splendidly-striped tigress," and whose mirthfulness, and docility were especially dwelt upon, was sold a few days ago in London for fifty-two guineas. It was one of the most playful tigers ever known in India, which, getting loose on a fine summer's evening in the walled city of Jeypore, devoured or otherwise disposed of more than twenty of the Raja's loyal subjects before its jocularity was satisfied; and not long ago a delightfully docile specimen walked off with its keeper in the vicinity of Baroda.

Some of the schools have a rule punishing a boy who is tardy without an excuse. We wouldn't give much for a boy who couldn't give an excuse for being tardy. He ought to be punished.—Boston Transcript.

The man who cannot remember that he was ever a boy is entirely ripe for the harvest.
